

takes one to know
one

the creaking's just the house settling
behind those doors your secrets are well hid
your new place won't
make up for your last
one
a.k.a. your hell, kid

nervous when you cross
busy streets
look left and look
right, then left again
nervous that the world's on to you
but it's ok, I won't tell on you, my friend

but it's ok
I've been through
what you're going
through
ok, I won't tell on
you

the closet's no place
for skeletons
and the bottom of
the bottle is dead
wrong
so nervous that the
world's on to you
but hey, we won't be around for long

takes one to
know

the
whole
nine yds

dance w/ me
all you ever
wanna do is
emancipate
yourself from
all the strings
attached to the
past

it'll do you good
to acknowledge all
your needs
would bring out the best
in you
and then make it last

I would make it last

when you know nothing
else,
you trust no one but
yourself
to confide in me

would you look my way
w/ all your insight and 20/20 vision
I used to pray

for you to come save but you know what?

those beliefs
have passed

blinders are
on

it doesn't matter what I think right now
the matter is what you
do to me now
I've been a sucker for you
for so long
and you know it hurts,
only thing you've done
is to keep me waiting for
so long

sucking up to you
is what I've been busy doing I never wanted to be on speaking terms
sticking w/ that I'll continue to ruin
what I once had
